INTRODUCTION

es, fellow gamers hold on to your sock hats for it is none other than I, Bubsy Bobcat, star of game and screen, here to talk to you direct and impersonal about the fully hot line-up of cool games from Accolade. Thank you. Thank you. It's true that Accolade could find no better spokescat to tell you about their secret ingredient than I, the paragon of personality, the icon of individuality, the model of modesty, the ...ah, but I get ahead of myself.

"Is it true?" you ask. Can Accolade have some secret, low fat, low sodium, cholesterol free, non-toxic additive which makes its games stand fur and ears above the rest? Yes! Yes! And it's all thanks to me.

You see, a while ago, the head cheese, the big honcho, the main dude, the prez and CEO of Accolade, Mr. Alan Miller, was looking for that very thing - a secret ingredient. Typically, I was in the right place at the right time. "Al baby," I says, "what you need is me. If you could just take my awesomeness and bottle it, well, the world would beat a door into your path."

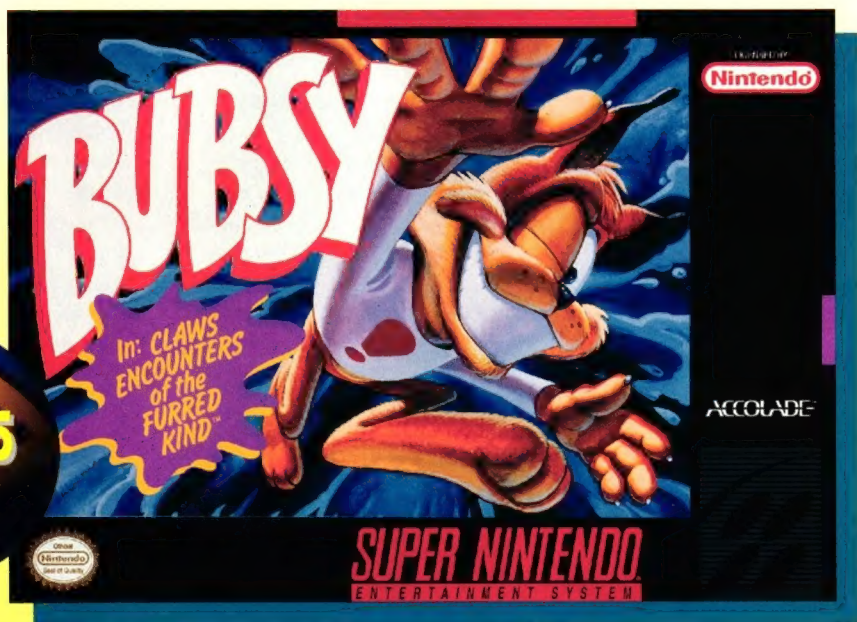

For a minute, Al looked at his Wonko Catamatic (something he does a lot when I'm around), and then inspiration struck. "That's it!" he exclaimed. "We'll put awesome personality in every game!" I thought he was still missing the point - it was me he was supposed to put in every game, but he was already running and the idea stuck.

So Accolade did it. They didn't just put the name on the game, they put the name in the game. I mean, rather than just stick some celeb's name on the package, they stuffed the whole personality right into every part of the product.

Take my product, for example, I personally designed and built the whole thing, (well, I had some help from a couple folks) so it's got my stupendous personality all through it! And Accolade does that same great thing with all their product categories like Sports, Action, Arcade Classics, you name it!

Do I have some great ideas or what? Now, if I could just get Al behind some of my great ideas for my new contract.....

BUBSY

- Don't just watch a Saturday morning cartoon — play one!
- Only a 16 megabit cartridge could handle all the animation, stunning art, digitized speech and area sensitive musical score in this sensational new game!
- 16 chapters with multiple play paths provide unlimited fun!
- There's more than one way to skin this cat — as a matter of fact there are over a dozen fully animated feline fatalities!
- Original musical score with seven original full-length songs

Yes, it is I, Bubsy Bobcat, the face of the nineties - the star of a stupendous new SNES and Sega Genesis video game called Claws Encounters of the Furred Kind. Get it? Claws Encounters? Ya' know?...Ah, never mind. What do you expect from a talking bobcat who graduated Magna Cum Loudmouth with a major in Punology and a minor in Underwater Wackyisms?

In this game, I'm trying to save the Earth's supply of yarnballs from Woolies, you know, those dumpy little fur-mites from the planet Rayon. They use the stuff to power their high fiber plasma engines. And they're chasing yours truly through five huge worlds with sixteen levels chock full of crazed cheese wheels, horny toads, vicious sand sharks, cranky crocagators, clam chops...and have you ever been sucked through a warp cave? Talk about makin' the fur fly...whoa! And when I finally meet up with those scheming Woolie queens Polly and Ester, you can bet the velvet's gonna get crushed. 'Cause I'm big! I've been workin' out. I'm bigger than those other video game wimps. Just look at my feet! I even wear an extra large t-shirt.

So, if you want to be the coolest cat on your block you gotta buy this game, but if not, no big deal. Don't worry. I mean, it's only the end of your life as you've known it. People will shun you. Dogs and cats will attack you for no reason, little dark thunder clouds will follow you around — you could be struck by lightning! But it's no big thing. So you don't buy my game. What could possibly go wrong? Besides your sneakers becoming magnets for scorpions that is....
